Because your industrial design needs are unique and demanding, Rosenbauer offers the strongest, most diverse selection of body design in the industry. From our heavy-duty extruded aluminum body, to our formed aluminum and stainless steel bodies, each body is customized to your specifications to meet your needs. With our bodies being designed specifically for your application, we can assure that the pump, plumbing, and related systems are designed with maximum efficiency and performance in mind.

ARFF VEHICLES
Do you protect an airfield? Do you have severe off-road areas that you need to reach? Rosenbauer offers a full line of ARFF vehicles that are able to traverse even the most treacherous of terrain. Rosenbauer’s 4X4, 6X6, and 6X6 HRET vehicles will meet even the most difficult challenges.

AERIAL DEVICES
Whether you need an elevated waterway, articulating platform or a straight aerial, Rosenbauer can meet your unique and demanding needs with our full line of aerial apparatus, capable of flowing up to 3000 GPM from our wide variety of aerial devices.

Dry Chemical Systems
Does your application require a dry chemical extinguishing system? Let us help you select the proper system, ranging from a 250-lb to 2000-lb system. Whatever your needs, we have a solution to fit your requirements.

OPERATIONS PANEL
Top mount, side mount, rear mount or safe scene style operations panels – you choose and we deliver. Rosenbauer will engineer an easy-to-understand operations panel for even the most complex industrial systems designed.

FOAM SYSTEMS
Rosenbauer will design, engineer, and install the foam system that you require, rather than requiring you to use a proprietary foam system on your industrial apparatus.
